

David Stubbington of Elliotts Premier Roofing, our Contractors, having just removed our weathervane cock from its perch for the first time in more than 40 years.

'We're hoping to refurbish it with its original 1878 gilded decoration before remounting it for another 50 years of silently staring into the wind over Highfield.

Highfield Church is getting a new roof and spire and continues to welcome all to our services

What's happening?

First, the spire will have all the shingles replaced. These recently suffered from the storms and need to be made safe by replacing with new. The new cedar shingles will weather to grey in a few months.

Next, the South faces of the Chancel and the Main and South Aisles will have the old tiles removed and replaced with new tiles with a similar dark appearance. The roof structure will be made more water-proof.

The work will commence in July and is expected to complete by December, subject to weather conditions. The project has been financed by Highfield Church congregation.
